Translucent Tactile Shells 13842J

6 colors, 6 different tactile surfaces.

Set includes: 36 shells in jar

Size: 5.4cm

Made from recycled plastic! Tangram with tactile surfaces for sensory learning. Each piece of the tangram has a different tactile surface. Children explore and develop important problem solving skills playing and learning with tangrams.

Set includes: 35 pcs. 15 activity cards in plastic container and additional activities online

Size: square tangram is 5 x 5cm

The Reflection Activity Set helps stimulate children's imaginations to explore symmetry and reflection with their creative designs. Children also develop problem solving and critical thinking skills while familiarizing themselves with numbers when creating the 2D and 3D activity card designs! Activity booklet includes 16 activities.

Set includes: 100 translucent cubes, 1 number board, 1 L frame, 2 mirrors and 1 activity booklet

Size: number board is 22 x 22cm

Discovery Case Magnetism & Compass

The case includes experimentation material on the topics of magnetism and compass. Overall your students are able to perform 28 different experiments. The set includes adequate material for all experiments to be performed at the same time. Therefore, a whole class can work and explore simultaneously.

The enclosed handout for teachers (44 pages) contains interesting information, master copies of each experiment and many solution sheets. The material is stored safely in a robust carrying case with foam inlays and can be easily transported.

Experiments on:

- Magnets attract, reject or influence each other
- magnetic or not
- > forms, force, effects, patterns, fields, formation of
- construction and use of a water- or yarn-compass
- big magnet "earth"
- electromagnet

Scope of delivery:

6 removable big and small storage boxes filled with different big bar- and horseshoe magnets, ring magnets with stands and one electromagnet, metal pads, different magnetic and non-magnetic materials, boxing cars, boxes of iron powder, compasses, jumper wire, magnetic needle with stands and copy templates of a wind rose, sensory perception bag, twine, set square ???, plastic

Moreover a ruler and a handout.

Attention: batteries are not included. You need 2 batteries of the type AA.

CONDUCTIVITY EXPERIMENTS

Research Case Acoustic

Sounds are created by vibrations. How can sounds be heard? How does sound spread? How can you make sound visible? What is the difference between high and low notes?

For this purpose, experiments are carried out in these areas:

- Experiments on the formation of sound
- Experiments on how sound travels
- » Experiments on the transmission of tones and sound
- Experiments on the development of sound and keys

Research Case Mechanics

What is force? Which forces work on us? Can they be measured? How are bridges or buildings built stable? We find out how to save power, how a pulley works and why the Leaning Tower of Pisa does not fall over. Mechanics are also about movement: Why do I fly forward when braking and what causes the stopping at all? Simple and yet smart experiments show what happens in the carousel and how the gearshift works on the bike.

For this purpose, experiments are carried out in these areas:

- > Experiments on force and motion
- > Experiments on balance and center of gravity
- > Experiments on dynamics > Experiments on friction
- > Power transmission experiments

Research Case Optics

Light spreads in a straight line. But what happens if it hits surface like a mirror, a white wall, or on water? How do lenses change the paths of light? The most important lens is the one in our eye, how does it work? Where do the colors of the sky come from? Why is there summer and winter? How does day and night come about?

For this purpose, experiments are carried out in these areas:

- Experiments on sunlight
- Experiments on light absorption
- > Experiments for light reflection
- experiments on refraction
- > Experiments on light scattering
- > Experiments on the functioning of the eye

Contents:

50 wooden sticks

50 sheets photo cardboard, DIN A4, black 300/m2

Boomwhackers Xylo Tote Tube Holder

A whole new way to play your boomwhackers like a xylophone! Used as a carrier, it accommodates 8 Boomwhackers and a pair of mallets. Two or more can be combined end-to-end for a wider range of play. Made of cotton, elastic and hook-and-loop fasteners.

Magnetic music whiteboard

Great for improving music reading skills. Children instantly recognise musical notes, rests, accidentals and time signature. The magnetic notes make it very easy to compose scales, intervals, rhythm, triads and own music. The surface is a dry erase board and can also be written on with whiteboard markers for free composing.

1x whiteboard with 2 music staffs (treble and bass clef), 23 x 31 cm, 33 colourful magnetic elements (music notes, sharps ...)

Led-Colour Projectors

The special flashlight produces either a light cone or a linear light beam.

Examples of use for linear light beam:

- > With optical lenses you can demonstrate the refraction
- > Arc measurement of light refraction.
- > With convex or concave prisms you can demonstrate visual defects of the eyes.
- > With a hand mirror your students can divert and reroute the rays.

- Examples of use for light cone:

 > Ideal for all colour mixture experiments.
 > Combined with prisms you can demonstrate the principle of light refraction.
- Using a combination of all light cones you can show the principle of additive colour mixtures.

Each Projector is magnetised. Therefore experiments can be performed on either the blackboard or working place.

Presentation: 3 LED-colour projectors (each 1 x red, green, blue).

The pictured mirror, prism and working sheets are not included in delivery.

Dimensions: 11,5 x 2 x 3,5 cm
